

MY FAVOURITE BOOK

I love reading books. That's how I generally spend my free time. I often spend long hours reading my favourite books.

| | | |
|--|---|-----------------------|
| My favourite book is | | |
| It is a/an | Science fiction novel Spy story Story about love affairs Adventure Historical novel | |
| It was written by | | |
| It was published in | | |
| It deals with | Serious topics Social matters Funny subjects Entertaining subjects Scientific subjects Historical subjects | |
| The main character is a ... He/she | | |
| The events take place in | | |
| Everything about the book was good/disappointing, both plot and characters | | |
| It is | The best The worst The most exciting The most boring The most enjoyable The silliest The most violent The most disgusting | book I have ever read |
| In my opinion (title of the book) must be considered | The most successful book that (name of author) has ever written The least successful book that (name of author) has ever written | |

Now I'm going to read ... because ... I think it's better/more interesting than ...

READING

- It's at the end of the book and it contains an alphabetical list of the contents
- It's the person who writes the book
- It's a list of words with their definitions and pronunciation at the end of the book
- It's the name of the book
- It has the title, author, publisher and blurbs on it
- It's the list of the contents and page numbers at the beginning of the book
- It's at the end of the book and it contains extra information
- It's at the end of the book and it lists the resources the author used
- It's the company that makes the book
- Two or three sentences about the book on the back book cover
- Manual, biography, textbook, guide book, autobiography, detective story, encyclopaedia, fantasy book, historical novel, adventure story

KEYWORDS

Publisher, title, cover, author, blurb, table of contents, glossary, appendix, bibliography, index